A TEMPLE OF UNDERSTANDING

On a sunny Autumn afternoon in 1959 Judith Hollister of Greenwich, Conn. was chatting with a long-time friend. Their talk was not confined to the usual woman-to-woman routine but ranged instead to broader problems indeed. After coming to the dreary conclusion that the state of the world was cataclysmic, and that due to lack of understanding and spiritual poverty, the whole universe was headed for destruction, the two friends had an idea.

The idea was to gather together in one great building the great religions of the world. We spend hours at the conference table, hours on exchange involving millions of dollars, but no time at all in trying to understand what is going on in the other man's mind.

The building, called the Temple of Understanding, was designed by Lathrop Douglas, eminent Washington architect. It will be built in Washington on the banks of the Potomac on land donated by an interested supporter. The building will be a star-shaped building with a wing for each of the six major religious faiths of the world, Christian, Islamic, Jewish, Buddhist, Hindu and Confucian.

Mrs. Hollister has worked tirelessly for this plan since 1959 traveling to all parts of the world to explain her plan to interested people.

CLUB HEARS TALK ON MENTAL HEALTH

A talk and movie on mental health was given for the Rochester Woman's Club by Grace Jerauld, R.N., of Taunton State Hospital. Miss Jerauld spoke of the various problems confronting former patients after their release from the institution. She noted that the adjustment to family life from the routine of the hospital was often difficult, but the price of freedom is the ability to take responsibility and a new life cannot be lived by relying on doctors and hospital authorities. An excellent film, "Dad and Son", was shown which dealt with the story of a young man just released from a mental hospital. Through his own perserverance and the help and understanding of his father and friends, he developed confidence and a new life.

The need for more doctors was stressed by Miss Jerauld. She said that the average stay for a patient is six weeks of intensive therapeutic treatment. At present, the number admitted and the number released are about on a level. Jobs are usually found for them before they leave and if they have a good background, they do have a fair chance of being employed.

It was encouraging to hear that from a previous high of 2000, there are now about 1,600 at the State Hospital. She noted that day patients are accepted at the clinic in Fall River where treatment is given people who are ill but do not require hospital care and this enables them to keep the home life intact.

Mrs. Marian Church conducted the business session. The new slate of officers was received for the coming year and include Mrs. Paul Gary, president; Mrs. Everett Hardy, vice-president; Mrs. Ward Benner, financial secretary; Mrs. Greenwood Hartley, treasurer; Mrs. Greenwood Hartley, Jr., auditor. It was voted unanimously to have the annual dinner and election of officers on Wednesday evening, May 1st, at Eugene's Restaurant in Middleboro. Mrs. Greenwood Hartley will be in charge of reservations.

Lloyds Market took 2 points from the Woodchoppers and took over the top rung in the second round of the Rochester Bowling League. Al Souza rolled a strong 353 for Lloyds. Johnny Hayes returned from a 2 week lay-off to knock down 380 pins for Dennis Mahoney & Sons and a 3 to 0 win over Hillers Garage. Jay Hiller picked up a 346 for the victims. Tony Lopes, dished up a 374 as the Knotty Pine Cafe served Hartleys Saw Mill a 3 to 0 pasting. Ralph Gurney's 345 tops for the Mill. Substitute Maury Gifford's 389 was the big noise as Herbs TV Shop slapped a 3 to 0 whitewash job on Hartley's Garage.

GUILD GUEST NIGHT

She took with her 30 pounds of baby clothes, donated by the women in her church, and distributed them throughout the villages she visited.

Mrs. Morse, whose program title is Mrs. Nobody Goes Somewhere, presents her lectures throughout New England in the interest of CARE and in the past 3 years $10,000.00 has been

OKLAHOMA!

Playing to full houses, the cast of the Old Rochester "Oklahoma!" displayed the best high school production most of us have ever seen. The show was one which would have been a remarkable success for any amateur group of any age or experience. It will be a tough one to follow.

Mr. Zavan Maxmanian, music supervisor at Old Rochester, directed the production. He brought out the best in these students in the comparatively short time they had to work together. He also did a wonderful job at the piano as he furnished all of the music for the production. He and Mrs. Aurora Anderson, stage director, are to be congratulated on the excellence of this musical.

Wendi Hayes was perfect for her part. She sang her numbers in a true, sweet voice and made a very attractive Laurey. Her double, in the dance number was Joyce Ladner. This switch was so well done that it was difficult to know that a change had been made, and the two girls were made up to look like twins. Joyce, a talented girl, danced beautifully.

David Baker did an excellent job with the long speaking and singing role of Curley. Sandra Gilbert was well cast as Ado Annie Carnes.

She was simply great in this comic part which demanded both acting and singing talent. Daniel Hebert, playing opposite Sandra, was equally good as Will Parker. He sang "Kansas City" and "All 'Er Nothin'", solo and teamed with Sandra with the power and comedy that made this duo shine.

Jack Matthews, as Ali Hakim, kept the action moving as he held up his end of the comedy department in a role well played. Richard Powell was a menacing Jud. He and David Baker did the "Pore Jud is Daid" number in an eerily lighted set which was one of many of the special lighting effects that added much to the show. Cheri Bauer did a very good job with the part of Aunt Eller Murphy. Warren Vaughan, Eric Warner, Carolyn Thorndike, Roger Nolan and Mark Roberts rounded out the fine cast.

The dancers and the chorus added color and lively action to the production. Choreography was directed by Mrs. Frances Swanson.

Members of the chorus were Kathy Sylvia, Bonnie Wing, Janne Helgren, Corinne Sylvia, Becky Brown, Aldora Mendes, Lorna Waddington, Heidi Hartley, June Stinson, Pati Sherman, Mary Lee DeCoffe, Donna Ouellette, Cheryl Heath, Sally Browne, Anne Lacey, Christine Mesarch, Mary McDevitt, Bonnie Reynolds, Sue Wickenden, Aime Poirier, Eric Warner, Warren Vaughn, Danny Cartmill, Richard Potter, Roger Nolan, Thomas Matthews, Mark Roberts, Danny Brown, David Goodenough, Roger Metcalfe, Norman Breault.

The dance group was comprised of Kathy Sylvia, Karen Chase, Beverly Perry, Beverly Andrews, Marsha Rose, Debbie Macy, Ann Figueiredo, Carolyn Thorndike, Christine Mesarch, Anne Lacey, Susan Wickenden, Warren Vaughn, Danny Cartmill, Thomas Matthews, Mark Roberts, Daniel Brown, David Goodenough and Roger Nolan.

Lighting was by Charles Days, slip stages, Louis Corey, Jr., make-up, Elizabeth Bendall and Mary Francotte; Myles Corey and Helen

PATIENT AT HOSPITAL

We regret to say we have been advised by a reliable friend that Al Lewis, who recently ran an ad in Presto to do painting has unexpectedly been confined to Tobey Hospital to undergo surgery, and won't be able to do your work till fully recovered. He is getting along nicely and we just know his Mattapoisett friends might care to send him a card to speed convalescence. That's Al Lewis, Marion Road, Mattapoisett.
